

Press information – raumplus presents the CREO shelf system

THE IDEAL FRAME

Modern, graphic and universally applicable: the newly developed »Creo« shelf system from raumplus looks like a homage to Piet Mondrian. Its filigree aluminum profiles can be planned in a variety of ways in both portrait and landscape format and combined with colored modules. In this way, they form the equally straight-lined and striking grid of optically light solitary furniture for living room, entrance and (home) office. In a partner look with sliding door S1200 and Swing Door SlimLine, »Creo« also provides an attractive framework for completely coordinated room concepts.

Storage space, free space, art space: no shelving system brings these three aspects together as effortlessly as »Creo«. Whether as a high or sideboard, media furniture, wardrobe or home office, it always combines high functionality with visual lightness and an artistic appearance.

Its versatile frame made of Black anodized or Champagne grinded aluminum profiles can be fitted with various shelves and carcasses according to your wishes and intended use: open and closed box modules with one or two doors, drawer elements, various back panels, clothes rail and desk top are available. The surface options range from the latest lacquer shades to contemporary decors and lucid glass variants.

»Creo's« design and its high-quality materials deliberately pick up on the design of hinged and sliding doors from the raumplus range: thus, in combination with sliding door S1200 or the versatile Swing Door Slim Line, complete room concepts can be created that are characterized by the filigree profiles as a consistent eye-catcher.

Whether as a striking and transparent living room shelf, as a compact home office solution consisting of storage space and desk, as a visually light variant for the entrance area or as an efficient use of space under the sloping roof - »Creo« is a modern interior statement, straightforward, puristic, timeless and Made in Germany.
